This Week in Spring - February 18th, 2020

ENGINEERING | JOSH LONG | FEBRUARY 18, 2020 0 COMMENTS

Hi, Spring fans! Welcome to another installment of This Week in Spring! This week I'm off to sunny Atlanta, Georgia, for the epic Devnexus show there. If you're there, don't hesitate to reach out and say hi! I'm also busy recording new episodes of a Bootiful Podcast and new Spring Tips videos videos. We have some amazing guests on the show coming up and we have some really fascinating topics to introduce in our Spring Tips videos, too!

- Announcing: The NEW Spring Website!
- In last week's A Bootiful Podcast, I talked to Vedran Pavic on Spring Session, Croatia, and so much more
- Spring Boot 2.3.0.M2 available now
- Spring Boot and Spring Cloud in 15 minutes
- Spring Integration 5.3 Milestone 2 Available
